Professional Monitoring Inc

.Admonition List

1. Remove all alcoholic beverages and other non-beverage alcohol from your home, office, boat, and vehicles (this includes wine collections).
2. Inform any prescribing practitioner (MD, DO, DPM, DDS, DMD, etc) that you are chemically dependent and check with PMI in advance, unless in an emergency, and then as soon thereafter as possible.
3. Avoid risky situations, for example, sitting at a bar consuming soft drinks, exiting a liquor store carrying a package, drinking sparkling cider out of a champagne glass at a wedding, or being a party to a raucous party situation.
4. Avoid unexcused absences.
5. Avoid fraudulent application (health insurance, life insurance, license apps, etc)! If questions regarding chemical dependency are worded ambiguously, or if there is any reasonable doubt about the intent of an inquiry, or if you are not absolutely certain of the proper and rigorously honest answer, consult with us before answering the question.
6. Out of town vacations for the first three months is not advisable. If you are going on a vacation, please notify out office (by phone, fax, mail or email) of the dates you will be gone, and where you will be going.

Assistance Agreement Summary

By signing the PMI Assistance Agreement, I have agreed to the following:

1. To comply with all provisions as stated in the complete agreement;
2. To abstain from all mood altering chemicals except as prescribed by a physician;
3. To submit to screening tests for the term of the agreement
4. To pay participation fees and cooperate with staff for term of contract.
